Reaching our tree-planting goal around the world

EXAMPLES

1

In Mexico, we planted almost 20,000 trees as part of two programs, one with the nonprofit Reforestamos and another with the Arbor Day Foundation. In both cases, we encouraged employees to “adopt a tree.”

2

In the U.S., 20 employees in Tampa, Florida, worked with 200 other volunteers to plant 1,250 longleaf pines.

3

In Argentina, we planted 600 trees in partnership with ReforestArg.

4

In Uruguay, we planted 100 trees—one tree per local employee—in the public park of Punta del Diablo, Rocha, with the Plantatón Uruguay initiative.

5

In Spain, approximately 25% of the MetLife workforce, in partnership with the Arbor Day Foundation, planted 854 total trees in an area where natural forests have been lost to fires.

In Hungary, we partnered with the Hungarian Association of Executives and Fókert Budapest to plant 1,200 saplings.

In Turkey, we donated 10,000 trees in 2021 to reforest areas destroyed by fires in the Hatay region. The saplings will be planted through the Turkish Foundation for Combating Soil Erosion.
